Maxwell Power Plant Is Giant

Don Shortz, of San Pedro, Maxwell distributor for this district, speaks highly of the achievement that Maxwell engineers have produced in the new four-cylinder motor used in the latest series models. Maxwell owners everywhere, as well as in Southern California, praise the new motor and its builders whenever the subject of automobiles is injected into the conversation they are engaged in. Shortz states:

"In fact," he declared in speaking of many Maxwell exploits of recent date, "one of the biggest factors that has contributed greatly to the success of the new Maxwell has been its performance—in other words, its motor. The power plant has been developed over a period of years to the point where Maxwell engineers now believe that it embodies every correct principle that can be applied to a four-cylinder motor."

"Principally, their achievement lies in correct balance of all reciprocating parts, the parts that wear and cause vibration in any motor. Vibration, by this action, has been reduced to a minimum, and this feature is highly praised by owners in California, two thousand of whom have become Maxwell owners since the introduction of the new series car."

"Both static and dynamic tests in which balance can only be properly found, are employed in final testing of crankshaft, camshaft and all other parts that rotate as well. To carry out this idea of balance and smoothness of operation, practically one-third of the active length of the crankshaft is taken up by bearing surfaces, a really high percentage when the construction of other motors and other types of power plants are taken into consideration."

Rickenbacker and Columbia Agents

A recent acquisition to the automobile agents for the Torrance and Lomita districts is the firm of Litton & Frame of Gardena who have the exclusive agency for the Rickenbacker and more recently for the new Columbia Six.

Dr. C. T. Litton, the senior member of the firm has been a practicing physician in Gardena for more than ten years and is one of the best known residents of the Valley town. His partner, L. A. Frame, who has been a resident of Gardena for nearly three years, is well known locally as one of the partners in the dry goods firm of James M. Frame & Co.

Both members of the new auto agency are therefore well known and well established in this district and their recommendation of the Rickenbacker and the less expensive Columbia carries great weight with residents of this section.

Architects Make Homes Pleasing

Are the small and moderate-priced houses of Los Angeles beautiful, artistic commonplace or ugly? Could they all have been beautiful? Is there any excuse for an ugly or even commonplace house?

It can be taken for granted that the absolutely ugly appeals neither to the person who is to build or the one who is intending to purchase. The same can be said of the mediocre and commonplace, which leaves only the artistic and beautiful as the type desired and sought after.

But how is the beautiful to be recognized in a completed building or in the earlier stage when the plans are first drawn? The answer is, that depends upon one's training, one's sense and appreciation of the value of proportion, the knowledge that doors, windows, walls and roofs all have a relative proportion to each other.

Too many of us think we know. Instead, let us be honest with ourselves, acknowledge our ignorance and seek out the man who possesses a natural gift for the artistic, who, by training and experience, has established himself in the business of planning and designing.

Men make camps; women and children make homes. Better buy. Rent is high. Realize your dream, a home in California.

Don't hope for a home; make the first payment. Sometimes one gets soaked when they buy. You always get soaked when you rent.

It is easier to rustle the grub than the rent. If I advertised I would take rent receipts in payment of homes the Governor would have to call out the National Guard.

Employees of U. T. Co. Gives Concert

Industry and art joined hands and proved to radio listeners that it isn't always those who make art their profession who can hold interest on radio programs. The entire KJH concert last month was given by employees of the Union Tool Company of Torrance, and they demonstrated that one never can tell by the work which persons daily perform what accomplishments may be hidden back of their daily routine.

Through the courtesy of Edward Clarkson of the Union Tool Company the concert was arranged. Included in the evening broadcast were coloratura soprano, dramatic baritone and lyric tenor solos and instrumental numbers played on a baritone horn, an instrument new to listeners-in on KJH programs.

All of these artists are members of the Union Tool Company's glee club or orchestra. Betty Polinkas, who leaves shortly for New York to continue her studies under some of the best Eastern teachers, sang two excellent coloratura soprano numbers: "The Star" by Rogers, and "Domani" by Lillo, the latter in Italian. She was accompanied by Virginia Watson who is well known locally, having been the most popular candidate for queen at the recent fiesta in Torrance. Miss Watson played all accompaniments of the evening, except that for the baritone horn. Moran J. Jones, who studied music under Alche-faki in Moscow, Russia, sang two baritone solos and showed real ability. His numbers were "Little Gray Home in the West" by Hermann Lohr, and "Songs of Araby" by Frederick Clay.

J. E. Williams, lyric tenor, who has been leading tenor with several of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas, including "Mikado," "Pirates of Penzance," and "Pinafore," sang "The Trumpeter" by Dix and Bartlett's "Dream."

Both Mr. Jones and Mr. Williams were also heard in a duet, "Excelsior" by Balfe. Every radio set in Torrance was "tuned in" to hear the Torrance program.

T. D. Bonney of the Union Tool orchestra brought an instrument new to listeners from KJH and played two appealing numbers. This was a baritone horn and the numbers were "Three O'Clock in the Morning" by Robledo and "Smilin' Thru" by Penn. He was accompanied by F. W. Mill, pianist for the Union Tool orchestra.

WAREHOUSE NEWS

Well, Jess Tomkins is back on the job again after his fifteen days of torture and seems none the worse for wear from his experience. He has gained fifteen pounds in one month from having his teeth taken out.

We have heard several reports about Clarence Kipp. They claim he has a steady girl nowadays and steps out like a regular sport, but he sure had the joy taken out of his life when he was disappointed in a trip to San Diego and Tia Juana on Labor Day.

Jack Moore made a flying trip to Bakersfield last week with his wife and baby to see Mrs. Moore's sister, who is very ill with typhoid fever.

Walter Smith was off duty three days last month with a vicious boil just below his knee cap, but after the doctor squeezed a couple of cores out of it, and about half of the life out of him, he is getting along nicely.

Frank Donley, who was with the Rec. Dept. is back to his old job and is now moving all the engine parts to the C. A. Dept. Warehouse.

(Jess) Willard Clark had an accident last week, got two of his fingers caught between two clutches and just about mashed the ends of them off, but is doing very nicely now.

Tommie Walsh, one of our truck drivers, was off sick a couple of days, but nothing serious.

Walter Lohr, who was our extra truck driver, mashed his foot and was off duty several weeks, but is back again, and is running one of the Gishoul machines.

Harry Young is leaving us Friday, the 14th of September, after being in our service for three years. We hate to see Harry leave us, as he seems to be one of the fixtures around the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Kuhns have at last moved into their new house on Flower street, Lomita, and he settled down to housekeeping in the good old-fashioned way, even if he is only a mere boy.

Frank Somer got bee stung again. This is getting to be such a habit with him that I will not mention it again.—U. T. Co. News.

U. T. Workmen Are Courteous to New Men

Do not forget to give the glad hand to the new man who comes to work with you in your department! Remember the first day you were of the new job when you did not know anybody and you were pretty lonesome? Perhaps a new man has come from a distance and does not know where to locate. Tell him about your town and suggest to him where he can find a room. Tell him about the rules regarding punching in and out, about pay day, where he can cash his check and a hundred other things that a stranger wants to know and will appreciate being told. Our employees come here from all over the world and most of them need some advice about local conditions. Employment Department includes in its functions welfare service for employees and is glad to be of any assistance to the new man when it is called upon, but it does not get the chance to help that is given the men through out the plant; so when the new man comes in, give him a smile and the glad hand, and see what you can do for him.—U. T. Co. News.

LOMITA COMMUNITY CHURCH

"Religious Education" was the subject of the morning sermon from the text, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

There was religious education in the world long before we had text books on psychology, pedagogy and child study. Moses was taught by his mother in his tender years, lessons that Pharaoh's court, with all its luxury and wealth could not blot from his memory. Hannah trained little Samuel in his early years so that he became an apt pupil of Eli in the Tabernacle. What a heartache these mothers must have suffered when they saw their little boys taken from them! Nancy Hanks Lincoln had her little boy Abraham with her only nine short years when God took her home. She so impressed her son in that time that he always paid her the tribute of his living memory.

There can be no religious education worthy of the name which does not recognize the work of the Holy Spirit in changing the heart and life. "Ye must be born again," said Jesus to Nicodemus, and no child is truly a christian until that experience takes place. It may not be possible for a boy or girl to tell just when they were born again, and when they first began to love the Lord. When did you begin to love your mother? I am sure many children come to know God through their mothers, not merely by direct teaching, but by the atmosphere of mother's love in which they have grown.

The Temptation of Christ was the evening subject. The things proposed by Satan were in themselves desirable for an innocent person. The suggested way to obtain them was wrong. Jesus was tempted by the devil. We do not get rid of the devil by saying we believe in evil but not in the devil. Decapitating satan's name does not kill him. Jesus believed in a personal devil and said so. Why should we doubt His testimony?

The Intermediate C. E. meeting was well attended. The leader was Dawson Trotman. The Junior C. E. meeting was led by Mrs. Ella B. Miller.

Next Sunday, October 15, the morning subject will be "Witness for Christ." The evening subject will be "Christ, the Great Physician." All are cordially invited to these services.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tonkin spent Sunday in Los Angeles, and visited the Sunken Gardens in Exposition Park.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Floyd of Los Angeles are moving into Mrs. William Cox's property, on Weston street.

Mrs. Edna Davis of Los Angeles, was entertained this week by her daughter, Mrs. William Lanning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Adams, enjoyed the Thursday holiday, at Catalina in company with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Adams of Gardena.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tappin, Sr., and Mrs. Mrs. Walter Tappin, Jr., and son, Marshall, picnicked at Anaheim Landing, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Whitson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee of San Pedro, were entertained Sunday, by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Crawford, of Arizona street.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Wilson were Saturday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Seckler, of Sun street.

Norman Rowe is putting in the foundation for a modern home on Eshelman avenue, for Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKinney.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Stelling and family of West Pine street spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Buttrick of Strawberry Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kinney and Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Sedacheks of Los Angeles were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Northrop, last Sunday.

Due to the glowing reports of California in general, and Lomita in particular, given by Miss McGuffy, who several months ago visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Welte, other friends from Markle, Indiana, are on their way out here.

Friends here have learned that little Doris Woodard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Woodard, of Brea, is quite ill again. The Woodard's are former Lomita residents, and Doris was very popular with the kiddies.

ENGINE DEPARTMENT

(From The UTCO News) Atwood and his bride, who was formerly Miss Davis, of Torrance, took advantage of the holiday and went to San Diego. It is too bad Brownie that you got so close to the border without going across.

Atwood is soon to leave us and enter school. He is going to take a course in physical culture and expects to become an instructor or coach. Good luck Brownie. You have done some good work on our ball team and we feel sure that you will make good.

Now that George Haneska is living across from Ralph Hoer, Ralph has taken down his fence and permits the neighbors to watch him while he works with his lawn. It is said that he uses one of his "safety hair cutters" to trim it with.

"Hair cutters" reminds us of Daniel Larsen's last hair cut. He was telling about only having paid 40c for it. Bill Blandford told him he should only have paid 25c, because of the bald spot on top of his head.

To watch Anderson mixing his white lead one would think he was making a cake.

Harry Thompson has so many odd jobs that he has to keep on the job in order to keep up with his work. While working on one of said odd jobs a spring broke and hit his eye glass which broke and injured his eye. It is much better now.

An Irish servant girl asked leave of absence for an hour to consult a fortune teller. She returned walling dismally.

"Did she predict some great trouble?" asked her mistress, sympathetically.

"Och, ma'am, sich terrible news!" moaned the girl, wringing her hands.

"Tell me what she said," asked the mistress, wishing to comfort the girl.

"She told me that me father works hard shoveling coal an tind-in' foires for a livin'!"

"But that's no disgrace," said the mistress, a trifle vexed at such afflictions.

"Och, ma'am, me poor father!" sobbed the girl. "What a hard time he must be havin'! He's been dead these noine years!"

about it. In a little while Mac told Bill that he would find the key in his sweater pocket. Bill took a look, not thinking to find the key but to his surprise he did and now no one can tell him that Mac is not some spiritualist.

Bech has gone to one of those meetings which Mac so likes to go to and tells some very wonderful stories of the things that took place there. We can but wonder who will be the next to join this growing Spiritualist circle.

Lumber Shipments For September

September was one of the heaviest lumber-consuming months in the recent history of California, says the California Lumber Merchant.

The cargo shipments at Los Angeles harbor up to September 28 aggregated approximately 80,000,000 feet of fir and other species from the Northwest, and 14,000,000 feet of redwood from California—a total of 94,000,000 feet.

San Francisco water shipments up to and including the 23rd of the month were 32,000,000 feet of Oregon and Washington products, and 11,000,000 feet of California.

The rail shipments were approximately 6,000,000 feet, or a total from all sources of 49,000,000.
